KAS ANNUAL REPORT

1 APRIL 2014 TO 31 MARCH 2015

General Report for the year 2014-2015

VETERINARY SERVICES

In all, 2520 animal were presented at the shelter for veterinary treatment and vaccinations. 2070 were treated by the mobile team, including camps, visits to farms and villages, and 178 animals living at the shelter were also treated meaning in total 4768 animals were treated.

ANTI-RABIES VACCINATION (ARV)

Altogether 3633 animals were vaccinated with ARV, including 2229 dogs, and 101 cats.

THANKS TO MRS GURUNG.

Mrs. Ganga Gurung, Vice-Chairman of Kalimpong Municipality has visited the shelter on several occasions. Above the shelter, where a large number of semi-wild dogs live, in the army's spacious grounds feeding on the waste food, much help is being extended by the army personnel, in particular feeding dogs until they become friendly enough to catch.

A Typical Camp

During the year 6900 dogs were treated, 575 cats, 398 cattle, 865 goats, and 922 poultry. This amounted in total to 9744 animals treated by KAS. Many of these veterinary treatments took place at camps conducted by the shelter whilst others were visits made by the staff and Dr. Deo Pandey to distant locations where owners had rung up and reported their animals were sick.

Altogether 268 animals were rescued, 199 surrendered, and 95 admitted for treatment. Some shelter animals were also treated amounting to a total of 593 veterinary treatments carried out.

When DGAS trust purchased the land from Mr. Donald Karthak, there were terraces of paddy fields. Architect Ashok Pradhan arranged for the levelling and extension of some of the steppes.

BARE LAND: It seemed as though the kennels and gardens would take years to be established, but within a couple of years the shelter was functioning.

One of the first vets to work at Kalimpong Shelter, and to assist Ashok Pradhan in construction of DAS, was Dr. Naveen Pandey, now a Director of The Corbet Foundation.

IN MEMORY OF TWO KAS STAFF

Kushmaya Thapa who was always reliable and punctual, who worked in the gardens, and also prepared meals for volunteers.

Gopal Chettri who died of a kidney problem when so young. He came from a nearby village and was the night watchman at KAS

Helping the local village people has always been an obligation of KAS

THIS YEAR, THANKS TO A DONATION FROM ANIMAUX SECOURS, KAS WAS ABLE TO VACCINATE MORE ANIMALS AGAINST THE DEADLY PARVO AND DISTEMPER USING A LOCAL BRAND OF VACCINATION CALLED DHPPi+L

Altogether, 435 animals were given this vaccination. If the owners were very poor we did not ask them to pay as the vaccine costs INR.260 per shot.

OTHER NEWS

Work in spaying and vaccinating the army dogs is continuing. Sometimes it takes a long time to catch these cunning and wary dogs but slowly the staff at KAS are managing to slow the breeding of unwanted puppies in the army area above the shelter. The army has co-operated with KAS and thanked Dr. Deo Pandey and compounders for their assistance.

ALAIN DUPONT

KAS has been fortunate to receive a donation from APN to expand the cattery as the number of cats in the care of the shelter grows. And we are grateful to French volunteer and builder, Alain Dupont, and to Animaux Secours for providing KAS with a new operating theatre.

AT RIGHT: It was this scene in 1994 which was the initial impetus for the founding of Darjeeling Goodwill Animal Shelter, a registered Indian Charitable Trust, of which KAS and DAS are two projects. Christine Townend saw this dog dying in the gutter after being poisoned with strychnine. It was a slow death and the dog was writhing in distress. Headmaster of Kalimpong College, Dr. G. S. Yonzon, called a meeting of local identities and the meeting resolved that Christine would form an animal shelter. In Jaipur, lawyer G.K. Tiwari helped with registration of the Trust.

CAMP AT SIXTH MILE: In October 2014, Mrs. Gaymit Lepcha made her home available for a camp to which local people brought their dogs and cats for spaying and vaccination. Photo below shows Dr. Deo Pandey operating at the Lepchas' house.

AT RIGHT: There is plenty of space at KAS thus enabling plenty of freedom for the dogs held at the shelter.

local people bring their animals to KAS for vaccination and for veterinary treatment

ABOVE AND RIGHT: The local village of Barbot Bazaar is the closest hamlet to KAS. 'Barbot' is the Lepcha word for the sacred Peepal tree.

In loving memory of Mrs. Paden Lhamu Karthak, pictured here with her son, Pastor Solon Karthak. This Lepcha family were neighbours of KAS and their ancestors were the original inhabitants of this beautiful area of the world, Bong Busty, Kalimpong.

The last Lepcha King, Gyabo Achuk. The Lepchas had a sophisticated civilisation. Their beautiful wooden houses were constructed without using a single nail. It is feared their language will be lost but the Central Government is funding various projects to help conserve the Lepcha culture.

DAS ANNUAL REPORT

1 APRIL 2014 TO 31 MARCH 2015

The street dogs of Darjeeling are now content and free from suffering

Due to the effective work of Darjeeling Animal Shelter, the visitor to Darjeeling now sees plump, friendly, rabies-free dogs owing to the DAS ABC (Animal Birth Control) programme which has been carried out since 2008.

VETERINARY SERVICES

During the year 2285 animals were treated at the shelter. Additionally 1086 were treated by the mobile team (including camps) and there were 3568 treatments given to shelter animals.

Dr. Sameer Chhetri and staff, do not have an easy task. Below Dr. Chhetri describes the problem of just one area:

Chandmari area is in the heart of the town, just below the bus stand. It is densely crowded and you will find numerous dilapidated buildings and small bushy areas where garbage is carelessly dumped by the local people, giving rise to breeding pockets for the street dogs. Its hard to catch these wild dogs for the spay-vaccinate programme as they easily disappear in the narrow lanes of the buildings and houses. We were aware of the fact that one dog had just given birth to a litter in one of the old and partly wrecked houses. We are now visiting this place on a regular basis so we can catch this unspayed bitch and also many of the intact male dogs. In this area we vaccinated 30 dogs and 1 cat against rabies, brought to us by their owners. We were also able to catch a few of the dogs from this area for ABC.

CATCHING DOGS FOR THE ABC PROGRAMME

Not only is it difficult catching shy dogs, but numerous strikes and closures, due to the Gorkhas demand for a separate State, have meant that it has been very difficult to keep up the ABC numbers. Nonetheless 590 dogs passed through the ABC and in addition 101 cats were neutered.

4158 dogs and 441 cats were treated, in addition to many village animals- cattle (401) goats (411), pigs (386), poultry (704) and even a monkey.

117 animals were rescued, 76 rehomed, 37 suffering so badly that they had to be euthanased.

DAS was constructed to be purely an ABC facility for the Darjeeling dogs. However, it was not long before members of the public began bringing their pets to DAS. The outside area shown here was later covered.

A meeting with officials from the Darjeeling Municipality was held at DAS. The representatives were shown the kennels, operating theatre, dispensary, and other facilities.
