Weekly Report from Kalimpong Animal Shelter

The clinic at KAS has been the centre for treatment of animals near and far and KAS clinic has always been playing an important role in providing treatment to these animals, come rain or shine.

Mr. Sanjeev as shown in Picture below is seen administering saline on a dog at the Shelter Clinic. The other team also makes rounds to check upon the dogs that come as patients for treatment. Dogs kept on saline hold on for a while, sometimes the owners who come along with them have to wait for a long time about an hour for their dogs to receive saline fluids against digestion or any other bacterial disease. The Vet keeps an eye on every dog, examines before treatment. It is the ParaVets then who do their job of administering saline with the help or supervision of a Vet.

Currently, it is the same seasonal flu that has been afflicting dogs and for which, the treatment has been carried out at the KAS clinic.

The KAS Clinic

Animal Birth Control Programme in progress at KAS. Every week, the Spay and neuter Prg. is conducted with the sole purpose to sterilise as many dogs as possible.

The surrendered puppy with a fractured leg is doing so much better now and is able to walk because of treatment at KAS and good nursing given by the team. We are hoping to see his full recovery and he walking freely.

Yay! The kittens have been adopted this week.

There are a few more siblings waiting for a home like these two kittens who got lucky to find a good and loving parent. We handed the kittens to these owners after checking with them on adoption and we were ensured they would be well- looked after. For adoption, the Shelter keeps each record of each adopter.

New team member, Mr. Roshan cleaning the maggotted wound from a dog. This owned pet animal was brought to KAS with a big patch of wound that had been infested with maggots. The Vet, Dr. Deo had suggested debriding the wound and clearing those maggots. Maggotted cases are a little common this season with more humidity around. If wounds in dogs are not attended, maggots can swarm up quickly.

Picture below: Mr. Padam preparing food for the dogs. In India, dogs are used to consuming rice and broth. So, it is a staple meal for them here. Besides, they are also given dry food (kibble) and biscuits every day.
